Use your lego to the best of your ability to illustrate each different part of your house.

At the end of the task Big Brother will ask you to select a spokesperson to come into the diary room to present your lego house.

Big Brother would like you to make up a short TV show about life in the town or village that you live in.

You must pick one person housemate to be the presenter. All other housemates are to be people from the local area but five of these must be....

1. A policeman who works in the area every night.
2. A teacher at the local primary school.
3. An elderly member of the community.
4. A young person aged 15 years old.
5. A local councillor.

You must ask all five people about their job or life style, what they do during the day, what they do at night, what hobbies & interests they have.

You must also ask them what they think about life in their town or village, what the best things are, what the worst things are, what could make life better for them in their local area.

QUIZ TASK

Big Brother would like you to split yourselves into two teams.

Each team must then set a quiz of 5 questions to ask the other team. Each question must be multiple choice & have four possible answers including the real answer which you must know.

The questions must be based on:

1. General knowledge (such as who was the first person to walk on the moon?)
2. Pop Music (such as who's first single was Sound of the Underground?)
3. TV Show (such as who won Big Brother in 2005?)
4. History (such as what year did the second world?)
5. Sport (such as who is England's football manager?)

When you have made your quiz up you must pick a spokesperson to ask them to your opposing team.
